

2020 PONCE, BEACON COUNCIL PRESENT EVENT WITH TOP IT INDUSTRY LEADERS

 Angel Langston

2020 Ponce, the luxury office tower in Coral Gables, recently partnered with the Technology Committee of the Beacon Council to present a unique panel of IT specialists assembled to educate commercial real estate brokers on the corporate technology needs of their clients and how best to meet those needs.

The panelists and attendees participated in an interactive conversation as they enjoyed a breakfast at the premier tower developed by Florida East Coast Realty LLC (FECR).

Panel participants included: Kevin M. Levy of Gray Robinson PA; Nelson Fonseca of Medina Capital; Rick Mancinelli of C3/Cloud Computing Concepts LLC. and Scott Haugland with Miami Data Vault. Larry Williams, president/CEO of the Beacon Council, and Donna Abood, chair of the Beacon Council, also were present to answer any questions that the attendees had on the current Beacon Council initiatives.

Now a landmark in the City Beautiful, 2020 Ponce contains a total of 130,000 square feet, including ground-level retail, seven stories of premium office space with exclusive terraces, and a six-level parking garage. 2020 Ponce offers panoramic views as well as private and 360-degree wraparound terraces for nearly every office suite.

For information on 2020 Ponce, call 305- 476-7125, or visit www.2020ponce.com.

Pictured are (l-r) Austin Hollo, Florida East Coast Realty; Donna Abood, Avison Young, and Scott Haugland, Miami Data Vault.