The Upper Hound

The newest and tallest residential tower south of New York City, the ace executives behind monumental multiuse luxury spire Panorama Tower know that the fastest way to a Miamian's heart is through their poochy pals. Which is precisely why they've recently announced all-inclusive and exceptionally elegant dog hotel Dogtown as their first retail tenant. Offering a number of absolutely pug-nacious perks to Panorama Tower residents (including early drop-offs and other welcomed upgrades), this care-free and cageless kennel is also open to the public. A "mastiff" addition to this awesome edifice; PanoramaTower.com.

On A High Note

The stage adaptation of one of the most iconic films of the early '90s, Bodyguard: The Musical is, more than simply the tale of a sensational celebrity and her protector, a deep and profound panoply of the late, great Whitney Houston's most cherished songs and ballads. Recasting the tale of the overconfident Rachel Marron and grimly realistic Frank Farmer into our present day, fans of Houston's wider work on the original film will find plenty to love about this thrilling production; Apr. 3-8;
