Brotherly Bonds

Our April Issue is hot off the press and into your inbox!

In our latest monthly issue, the brothers Wayne and Jerome Hollo delve into their family real estate business and discuss how they've followed in their father Tibor's legendary footsteps. Plus, check out a special section on Elite Men in Business, which shows the ways in which these leaders are changing the way we view business throughout the tri-county region. We also feature exclusive reporting on an SFBW panel discussion that addressed the steps that employers can implement to aid the mental health of their employees, and why Lake Como, Italy continues to impress as an uber-luxury travel destination.
