The Hollo family's Florida East Coast Realty signed four tenants at its 1101 Brickell office towers for a combined 12,000 square feet.

The British Consulate General will move its Miami office into a 7,300-square-foot penthouse at 1101 Brickell Avenue in Miami, according to Florida East Coast representatives. The consulate, now at 1001 Brickell Bay Drive, will move later this year.

Also on tap in the coming weeks are jewelry company Anna Prata and A6 Security, each of which took 1,600 square feet of office space, Florida East Coast representatives said. INS Investment Properties, part of a California real estate firm, will move into 1,200 square feet.

Jake Freeman and Kevin Gonzalez of Colliers represented Florida East Coast Realty in the deals.

Florida East Coast Realty, which Tibor Hollo founded more than 60 years ago, also is headquartered at 1101 Brickell. The complex consists of a 19-story building and a 12-story building.

Late last year, Florida East Coast moved its headquarters from 100 South Biscayne Boulevard that it also owns, to free up the site for redevelopment. Florida East Coast plans the One Bayfront Plaza supertall on the site.
