Austin Hollo

Florida East Coast Realty
Chief Operating Officer

Austin Hollo, the third generation of the Hollo family at Florida East Coast Realty (FECR), excels as Chief Operating Officer. He plays a crucial role in the development of upcoming projects, the marketing and positioning of existing properties, and the coordination of property management and leasing activities, as well as the company's strategic vision, day-to-day administration and operations, and business development. Further, Austin oversees the company's risk management and insurance portfolio, is integrally involved in financing efforts, and is responsible for evaluating real estate acquisitions and investments. Recently, he achieved notable success with Panorama Tower, Florida's tallest building, where he exceeded expectations in rental rates, occupancy, and tenant retention. Austin's leadership and innovative approach, combining his family's legacy with modern insights, have been instrumental in helping FECR to continually push boundaries and reshape Miami's skyline.
